To whom it may concern:

Our Baton Rouge location recently underwent an office renovation where FMM served as the general contractor. The first phase of the project included the construction of additional new office space. The second phase included the renovation of our existing offices and warehouse. Please note that both phases were conducted while we occupied the building and FMM did an excellent job of keeping disruptions to our daily work routine to a bare minimum.

The quality of their work was excellent and Jim Dolan, their Project Manager, was always very prompt in returning emails or phone calls whenever a situation developed. In addition, the workers they employed were courteous and very accommodating whenever a "special" request was made by one of our office staff members.

I would be happy to further discuss the quality of their work with anyone who is considering using FMM as their general contractor. Please contact me at either of the phone numbers below or via email if you have any questions or would like any additional information.

Sincerely,
